

ERASMUS+ Strategic Partnership Project

ONLINE STUDY PLATFORM ON MEDIATION

Project number: 2016-1-LV-01-KA203-022660

Project duration:
September 2016 - April 2019

- ▶ Mediation is an effective interdisciplinary method of dispute resolution, where legal studies, entrepreneurship, administration and psychology converge. The EU has in the recent years embraced those alternative ways of dispute settlement for their main characteristics of being time and cost efficient. The applicable legislation - both on a European and national level, has been fully set out to meet those targets. However, an implementation process in practical terms is still underdeveloped in most, if not all of the Members States.

In September 2016 Turiba University (Latvia) in cooperation with 5 partner universities – University of Genoa (Italy), Mykolas Romeris University (Lithuania), University of National and World Economy (Bulgaria), University of Graz (Austria) and University of Economics, Prague (Czech Republic) started to implement Erasmus+ Strategic Partnership project. This project gathers experts and professional mediators from 6 countries.

- ▶ The aim of the project is to create, operate, maintain and integrate in the curriculum of the partner universities an online educational platform which serves as database of information and materials on mediation and is used as a tool for organising mock-mediation sessions among the students. Mediation platform will be open and available for any university or training institution teaching mediation from March 2019.

Partnership will also organise teaching activities for academics and students. A teaching material on methodology and the best practice manual will be elaborated to assist academics in organization of new mock-mediation sessions and mediation tournaments.
